Q: Matching a regex pattern to an application (ASP.NET MVC) I want to know if it is possible to match a pattern to an application (that is what the user will submit). In my case I have the pattern: `[a-z]+[a-z0-9]{6}` and the application: `abcdefghijkl` Here's what I am trying to do: If I submit this pattern, I want my app to return `"abcdefghijkl"`. So that would be the opposite of the `[abcdefghijkl]` pattern. I want to know if there is a way to accomplish this. A: Strictly speaking, you shouldn't expect to find a regex that will do this. The problem being that if you have two strings `"abcdefghijkl"` and `"abcd"`, then your pattern will match both of them. What you need is to look at your requirements more carefully. Given the rest of your question, I will assume that you require that `"abcdefghijkl"` is always a substring of the result. In that case, you need `^abcdefghijkl$` This is the string literal version of the regex. It matches a string that begins with `"abcdefghijkl"` and ends with the `"`. If you really want to match every substring, you can use the regex `^.+?(abcdefghijkl)$` This is a regular expression that matches a substring that begins with a single character or `"` (at least one character) and then ends with `"abcdefghijkl"` and is maximal in length. In C#, you might use the following code to match, starting with your pattern: `Regex r = new Regex(@"^(?=[a-z]+[a-z0-9]{6}).+(abcdefghijkl)$"); if (r.IsMatch(myString)) { // the`
